LO-FOAM

Defoamer for Carpet Cleaning Machines

This highly concentrated defoamer basically has one purpose, and that is to be used as an anti-foam or suds killing agent in carpet extractors or automatic scrubber and vacuum recovery tanks. LO-FOAM should be used where there is shampoo residue from previous cleaning by the rotary or dry foam methods, to prevent suds build-up and consequential overflow and damage to the vacuum system.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE:

- A. Depending on the amount of foam to be controlled, mix 2 to 8 oz. of LO-FOAM in a cup of water and suck up through end of vacuum hose.
- B. 2 to 8 oz. of LO-FOAM may be poured directly into recovery tank, or in severe cases, use method A and C.
- C. Mix 1 cup (8 oz.) of LO-FOAM to 1 gallon of water and spray evenly on carpet before using extractor. After adding LO-FOAM, check foam level and repeat application if necessary. Check recovery tank occasionally to be sure that no suds build-up occurs.

Above recommended dilutions are a guide. Use more or less as conditions dictate.

Additional Information

LO-FOAM Concentrated Defoamer is one of many top quality, high performance floor and carpet care products from Superco Specialty Products. When using a carpet extractor, foam build-up in the recovery tank is a constant problem and nuisance. Foam build-up if not controlled can cause damage to the vacuum pump not to mention slow down the cleaning process tremendously. LO-FOAM's high level of concentration makes it an economical solution to the problem. In addition, multiple application methods allow the user the flexibility to deal with a wide range of conditions from normal to severe. LO-FOAM is also usable in all types of hard floor scrubbing machines that feature wet solution vacuums. LO-FOAM is fast and easy to use and will save valuable labor time.
